Asset management strategy

The FOMC kept interest rates unchanged at 4.50% in March, the second hold in a row after cuts totalling 100 bps since September, highlighting increased economic uncertainty. In Europe, the ECB cut rates by 25 bps as expected, with a further cut in April still likely. Meanwhile, in Japan, the BoJ decided to hold rates at 0.5%, with a 25 bps hike expected in July. On the data front, the US February CPI was up 2.8% YoY (vs. 2.9% expected and 3% in January) and consumer confidence declined sharply in March, down from 100.1 to 92.9, well below the consensus (94). In the eurozone, headline inflation came in at 2.2% in March, with energy price inflation moving lower mainly as a result of base effects. In Asia, a government report set China's GDP growth target at around 5%, in line with market expectations, with the government deciding to authorise more expansionary fiscal policy and beginning to focus more on domestic measures in support of economic growth (easing the fiscal deficit and stepping up support for consumption). In Japan, the Tankan survey revealed that the headline measure of manufacturing industry sentiment fell from +14 in December to +12 in March. Lastly, after months of negotiations, new US import tariffs were announced and will come into effect on 5 and 9 April, with a minimum 10% tariff applied to imports from all countries.

Against this backdrop, global equity markets reversed the trend in evidence since the beginning of the year, with the S&P 500 down 5.8% and the Nasdaq Techno down 9.1%. In Europe, the Stoxx 600 lost 3.8% and the CAC 40 fell 3.9%, while in Asia, the Nikkei shed 4.1%, the Hang Seng gained 0.4%, the Shenzhen Comp dropped 4.1% and the Kospi fell 2%. In credit, the 5-year Crossover in Europe widened 41 bps to 330 bps while the 5-year CDX HY in the US widened 66 bps to 382 bps. Meanwhile, German 10-year yields rose, as one would expect, ending the month 33 bps higher at 2.74%, while US 10-year yields held steady at 4.21%. In currencies, the euro strengthened significantly against the US dollar (up 4.2%). Convertible bonds performed as one would expect in this environment, down 2% in the US and 1.3% in Europe, up 0.2% in Asia ex-Japan and down 0.2% in Japan (all measured in euros). All in all, the LSEG Refinitiv Convertibles Global Focus Hdg index in euros lost 1.55% in the month, while OFI Invest Global Convertible Bond fell 1.99% over the same period.

The primary market maintained its trend, helped by the Asia ex-Japan and Americas regions, with total issues coming in at $11.3 billion. The Americas region saw total issues of $4.7 billion, mainly in healthcare (Alphatec 0.75% 2030: $405m; Integer 1.875% 2030: $1bn), retail (GameStop 0% 2030: $1.5bn) and automobiles and parts (Lucid 5% 2030: $1.1bn). In the EMEA region, the primary market picked up, with issues totalling $1.9 billion: Fresenius Medical Care/Fresenius 0% 2028 (€600m; Germany; healthcare), TAG Immo 0.625% 2031 (€332m; Germany; real estate), Iberdrola 1.5% 2030 (€400m; Spain; utilities) and DHL/JPM 0.5% 2030 (€400m; Germany; industrial goods and services). Lastly, Asia saw total issues of $4.6 billion, mainly in the form of synthetic convertibles: TSMC/MS 0% 2028, Trip.com/GS 0% 2032, Baidu/GS 0% 2028, HSBC/MS 0% 2028, BYD/JPM 0% 2028, etc., but also Trip.com/Baidu 0% 2032 ($2bn) and TCC 0% 2030 ($350m). This brings total issues in the year to date to $20.5 billion, 15% lower than at the same point in 2024.

The fund's monthly performance by geographical region was as follows: EMEA -4 bps, Japan -9 bps, AEJ -13 bps and Americas -155 bps. Sectors that made a positive contribution were basic resources (+34 bps), utilities (+16 bps) and real estate (+2 bps), while those that dragged down performance were technology (-88 bps), financial services (-31 bps), industrial goods and services (-23 bps) and healthcare (-17 bps). As regards individual holdings, the negative contributors were Palo Alto 2025 (-35 bps), Volvo shares (-21 bps), Booking 2025 (-16 bps), Upstart 2030 (-16 bps), CyberArk shares (-16 bps), Li Auto 2026 calls (-16 bps) and CleanSpark 2030 (-10 bps). Meanwhile, the positive contributors were Sibanye Stillwater 2028 (+16 bps), Zijin Mining 2029 (+11 bps), Zhejiang Expressway 2026 (+7 bps) and Halozyme 2028 (+7 bps).

In terms of changes, we participated in the primary issues TSMC/MS 2028 and Trip.com/Baidu 2032 in Asia ex-Japan and sold JFE Holdings 2028 in Japan to free up cash. In the EMEA region, we received shares from the conversion of Safran 2028 and participated in the primary issues Iberdrola 2030 and DHL/JPM 2030.

Portfolio equity sensitivity was 47.5% at end March, the current yield was 0.8% for an average maturity of 3.3 years, the modified duration was 1.8 and the cash position was 2.5%.
