Asset management strategy

In the United States, at Jackson Hole, Jerome Powell paved the way for a rate cut in September, while reiterating the Fed's dependence on data. The dovish tone was reinforced by C. Waller, who said he was in favour of multiple cuts over the coming months. As regards statistics, data remained mixed, with Q2 GDP up 3.3% QoQ and headline inflation coming out at 2.7% but core inflation climbing to 3.1%. In the eurozone, the economy showed signs of stabilising: the composite PMI rose to 51.1, supported by industry (50.7), despite a slight decline in services. Inflation remained under control in July, at 2.0%. In China, the economy remained under pressure, with domestic demand sluggish and pressure on the technology sector increasing. The authorities required local giants justify their orders for Nvidia's H20 chips, which could hamper investment. In the absence of further stimulus measures, growth remains vulnerable in the second half of the year. Lastly, in Japan, August PMIs confirmed robust activity (with the composite PMI coming out at 51.9), driven by an upturn in manufacturing but a slight slowdown in services. Inflation slowed to 3.1%, in line with expectations, enabling the BoJ to maintain a cautious stance while leaving the way open to gradual tightening if exports improve.

Against this backdrop, European equity markets continued to gain ground, with the Stoxx 600 up 0.9%, the banking sector up 2.1% and the US market up 1.9%. In credit, the 5-year Crossover held steady at 268 bps, as did German 10-year yields, at 2.72%. In currencies, the euro strengthened against CHF (up 0.9%) and USD (up 2.4%). In European convertible bonds, the LSEG Refinitiv Convertibles Europe Focus Hdg index in euros fell slightly, down 0.08% in the month, while OFI Invest European Convertible Bond lost 0.07% over the same period.

The European primary market remained quiet, with just €740 million issued, consisting of a tap issue, TAG Immobilien 0.625% 2031 (€98m; Germany; real estate) and, at the very end of the month, Qiagen 2% 2032 ($750m; Netherlands; healthcare), to refinance the company's debt (with a put option on the 2027 convertible in December). This brings total issues in the year to date to €7.8 billion, 82% higher than in August 2024.

As regards performance, the main negative contributors were Schneider Electric 2030 and 2031 (-21 bps in total), Sibanye Stillwater 2028 (-15 bps), Spie 2028 (-12 bps), GTT shares (-11 bps) and Evonik/RAG 2030 (-8 bps). Conversely, the positive contributors were Pharming 2029 (+21 bps), Prysmian shares (+18 bps), Italgas/SNAM 2028 (+13 bps), Iberdrola 2027 (+9 bps), Kering/Cara 2030 (+7 bps) and Volvo shares (+5 bps).

Our only change was to sell some Prysmian shares as the share price rose; we maintained our significant cash position while we waited for the primary market to get going again in September. Portfolio equity sensitivity was 36% at end August, the current yield was 1.6% for an average maturity of 3 years, modified duration was 1.8 and the cash position was 10%.
