Asset management strategy

The minutes of the Fed's January meeting showed that monetary policymakers remained cautious and favoured a restrictive approach to ensure inflation was brought back to its target. These minutes fuelled speculation that the first rate could come in June and not before. Meanwhile, the ECB minutes showed that policymakers were confident about the effectiveness of monetary policy but continued to call for caution as to the pace of rate cuts. On the economic front, estimated US Q4 2023 GDP was revised downwards (to 3.2% QoQ, vs. 3.3% estimated) and year-on-year inflation came in at 3.1% in January, vs. 2.9% expected. The European Commission downgraded its 2024 eurozone growth forecast from 1.2% to 0.8%, pointing out that the slowdown in growth would put pressure on inflation. February inflation came out at 2.6% YoY, compared with 2.8% in January and 2.5% expected. In China, the PBoC left its medium-term lending facility rate unchanged but cut its five-year loan prime rate by 25 bps. However, this decision struggled to restore investor confidence in the real estate market and the economy as a whole. Lastly, in Japan, one of the members of the BoJ's Monetary Policy Board said the central bank should consider revising its ultra-accommodative monetary policy. The latest Japanese GDP numbers showed that the economy had contracted in Q4 2023, with Germany becoming the world's third-largest economy ahead of Japan.

In this environment, global equity markets continued to rise, ending the month on a very positive note, with the MSCI World up 4.1%, the S&P 500 up 5.2% and the Nasdaq Techno up 6.3%; in Europe, the Stoxx 600 gained 2% and the Euro Stoxx 50 put on 5%; and in Asia, the Nikkei climbed 7.9%, the Hang Seng 6.6%, the Shanghai Composite 8.1%, the Shenzhen Composite 10.5% and the Kospi 5.8%. In credit, the 5-year Crossover in Europe narrowed 20 bps to 306 bps and the 5-year CDX HY in the US narrowed 19 bps to 339 bps, while German and US 10-year yields narrowed 24 bps to 2.41% and 34 bps to 4.25% respectively. In currencies, the euro strengthened significantly against the Swiss franc (up 2.6%) and, to a lesser extent, sterling (up 0.4%) but fell slightly against the US dollar (down 0.1%), while the US dollar rose against all Asian currencies (up 2.1% against JPY, 0.3% against CNY and 0.1% against KRW). Convertible bonds responded uniformly positively, up 0.9% in the US, 1.4% in Europe, 2% in Asia ex-Japan and 2.8% in Japan (all measured in euros). All in all, the Refinitiv Global Focus Convertibles Hdg index in euros gained 0.57% in the month, while OFI Invest ESG Global Convertible Bond gained 1.58% over the same period.

The primary market continued the trend that had begun at the beginning of the year, mainly in the US and Japan, with a total of $9 billion issued in the month. A total of $7.6 billion was issued in the Americas, half of it in the tech sector, the largest issues being Global Payments 1.5% 2031 ($2bn; US; industrial goods and services), Super Micro Computer 0% 2029 ($1.725bn; US; technology), Five9 1% 2029 ($650m; US; technology) and NextEra Energy 3% 2027 ($1bn; US; utilities). There were no European issues in February. Lastly, in Asia, a total of $1.2 billion was issued mainly in Japan, consisting of Kansai Paint 0% 2029 and 0% 2031 (JPY 100bn in total; Japan; industrial goods and services) and Ibiden 0% 2031 (JPY 70bn; Japan; technology). This brings total issues in the year to date to $14.8 billion, in line with issue volumes in 2023.

The fund's monthly performance by geographical region was as follows: EMEA +61 bps, Americas +59 bps, Japan +18 bps and AEJ +12 bps. Sectors that made a positive contribution were industrial goods and services (+70 bps), energy (+19 bps), consumer products and services (+12 bps) and travel and leisure (+12 bps), while those that were negative for performance were basic resources (-13 bps) and healthcare (-4 bps). As regards individual holdings, the negative contributors were Palo Alto 2025 (-28 bps; down 8.3%), Dropbox 2028 (-11 bps; down 11.6%), SSR Mining 2039 (-10 bps; down 8.5%), Akamai Technologies 2027 (-9 bps; down 6.8%) and Sibanye Stillwater 2028 (-5 bps; down 9.7%). Meanwhile, the positive contributors were CyberArk 2024 (+21 bps; up 12.7%), Volvo shares (+21 bps; up 14.1%), Microsoft/Barclays 2029 (+18 bps; up 13.6%), Axon Enterprise 2027 (+13 bps; up 16.4%), Saipem 2029 (+12 bps; up 10.1%) and Daifuku 2030 (+11 bps; up 10.4%).

In terms of changes, we participated in the Microsoft/Barclays 2029 and Rémy Cointreau/ORPAR 2031 primary issues. We closed out our position in KPN/América Móvil 2024 and bought more Heineken/FEMSA 2026 and ENI 2030. The geographical breakdown at the month-end was as follows: Europe 29%, US 44%, Asia ex-Japan 10% and Japan 12%. The top two SRI categories (Leader and Committed) accounted for 56% of investments and the month-end cash position was 5.6%.

Portfolio equity sensitivity was 47% at end February, the current yield was 0.9% for an average maturity of 3.1 years and the modified duration was 1.66.
